DENIES HE FLED FROM FIANCEE AS SHE LEFT PLANE

Couple Today Are Like Two Love Birds at West Bristol Home

STORY ENTIRELY FALSE

Bride-To-Be is Attractive and Joins Ex-G. I. in Denial

Instead of fleeing from his fraulein fiancee, as reported in news dispatches today, just the contrary is true for a Bristol township man. The ex-G. I. and his German-born bride-to-be are like two love-birds at the West Bristol home of the mother of the bridegroom-elect.

Yesterday Philip J. Rohaty, 26, of Second and Steele avenues, West Bristol, met his promised bride, Miss Agnes Dangel, 24, at LaGuardia airport, New York, N. Y., following a trip by plane from Germany. I was there long ahead of the scheduled time of arrival for the plane, and waited anxiously for Agnes," commented Rohaty today as he scanned a news release in metropolitan papers and was at a loss to explain how reporters ever came by such a "garbled" story, as he terms it.

"The only inquiry I made at the airport was regarding which gate the plane from Germany would arrive. The individual at the information desk told me it would be Gate 35. I went to that spot and waited for the plane. When the passengers left the plane Agnes and I saw each other and she waved to me. I continued to wait about a half hour until she was finished with the customs inspection. When they told me she was ready to leave, I went in and met her, picked up her bags and we went immediately to a taxi to take us to the train to come home."

Rohaty points out that information in the news releases in metropolitan papers could not be correct in many respects. "In the first place they said an attendant pointed Agnes out to me. No attendant would know which of several dozen passengers would be the girl I was waiting for. Then, too, I knew Agnes well. We had worked together in Germany after the U. S. Army took over. I was doing photographic work and she was engaged in the laboratory at the same building. We kept company for three or four months, and became engaged to marry. We made our plans for her to come to America as soon as such arrangements could be made."

Pointing out also that the published stories about Agnes' lack of beauty were untrue, Rohaty called attention to the paragraph telling that she was stocky and had buck-teeth. Agnes, in fact, is approximately 5'4" tall, and weighs less than 120 pounds. She has a pretty complexion, and requires no rouge for her slightly rosy cheeks. Her hair is light brown, and she dresses after the fashion of the American girls.

Yesterday was the first reunion for Rohaty and his fiancée in about 1½ years, he having returned to the United States then after serving as a paratrooper in the 101st Airborne Infantry, U. S. Army. He was in the European theatre of operations for ½ years. The bridegroom-elect is the son of Mrs. Mary Rohaty, West Bristol. Miss Dangel is the daughter of Mrs. Rosa Dangel, of Ruhpolding, Germany. It was in Agnes' hometown that the two met and became engaged.

"We have no plans for the wedding as yet. We want to talk them over. It will be a small affair, but wanted to wait until Agnes arrived."

Bristol Rotarians Meet in Burlington

BURLINGTON, N. J., July 23—The inviolate franchise of the American people in their right to vote must be exercised by more of our electorate, and the service clubs and their membership throughout the entire nation must take the lead in seeing that the general citizenry go to the polls in every election. This was the message that Charles K. Barton, acting Governor of New Jersey, left with members of the service clubs of Bristol and Burlington when he addressed more than one hundred of their members on the spacious lawns of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, here, last evening. Supreme Court Justice Howard Eastwood, former majority leader of the New Jersey State Senate, acted as toastmaster for the get-together of the service clubs of the two towns. He recalled the completion of the Bristol-Burlington Bridge more than 16 years ago and pointed out that it was responsible for the annual pilgrimages of the clubs of Bristol and Burlington. Last year, for the first time since the end of the war, the service clubs of Burlington met in Bristol with the Rotary and Exchange Clubs.

Meeting on the Bristol side of the bridge shortly after six p. m., last evening, members of the Bristol Clubs were escorted across by a Burlington police escort. The dinner was served by the ladies of the Saint Elizabeth Guild.

Brief remarks were made by Harold B. Holmes, mayor of Burlington, who gave the official welcome to the visiting clubs. Edward Richards, president of the Young Men's Club of Burlington, and John McCann, president of the Kiwanis Club of Burlington, also made short welcoming addresses. Responses were made by E. Keller Fox, president of the Bristol Rotary Club, and Sheridan B. Metz, president of the Bristol Exchange Club.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Netherland forces tightened their grip on eastern Java yesterday, snatching close to the capital of the Indonesian Republic, advancing on half a dozen fronts and making amphibious landings. Former Premier Rajhrir was flown from Java to Singapore and may come to the United States in an effort to halt the fighting.

"Police measures of a strictly limited character" were undertaken "with the utmost reluctance" to maintain law and order in Java, the Netherlands informed the United Nations by note.

Yugoslavia challenged the right of the Security Council to compel the Balkan countries to cooperate with a United Nations border commission. It is believed that the sub-commission now in Greece will report that the guerrillas who attacked near Konitz last week came from Albania and were armed there.

Estimates submitted to the sixteen-nation Paris conference on the Marshall plan indicated that the United States might be called upon for $3,000,000,000 annually for three years. In Washington the House named forty-four Representatives to two investigating bodies to study United States global aid and its cost.

Find Leg of Teen-Age Girl Floating in Delaware River

BEVERLY, N. J., July 23—(INS)—Beverly police were baffled today by the discovery of a teen-aged girl's leg floating in the Delaware River.

Dr. Warren E. Rodman examined the leg and said it had been in the water about a week. He pointed out that it was impossible to determine if the limb had been severed by a knife or a boat propeller, because of its condition.

Authorities launched an investigation of coves and wooded areas in an attempt to find the rest of the body.

PAY SMALL FINE; STOLE GENTIAN ROOTS

Leniency of Complainant Gets Trio Out of Scrape in Easy Fashion

BRING HIGH PRICES

NEW HOPE, July 23—Three persons from Camden, given a hearing on charges of trespassing before Justice of the Peace Donald E. DeLacey, here, were given a break when the complainant preferred not to press charges of larceny of growing property, for which there are heavy penalties.

Said to have been caught in the act of digging up roots of gentian plants on "Sycamore Farm," the property of Mr. and Mrs. Tyson Nimick, on Windyhurst road, near here, were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Swearman and Mrs. Edna Malmesburg, all of Camden, N. J.

The defendants, it is said, admitted having dug up the roots and when they arrived at the office in custody of Trooper Mitchell, of the Doylestown barracks of the State Police, who made the arrest, they had in their possession several pounds of roots.

Questioned by Justice DeLacey concerning their activities, the defendants, it is said, admitted they sold gentian roots to a New York firm to be used for medicinal purposes.

Mrs. Nimick, who preferred the charge of trespassing and who did not wish to bring charges of larceny of growing property, said she felt the defendants would be sufficiently punished if fined on the trespass charge. She said the roots usually wholesale on the New York market for $6.50 a pound.

Justice DeLacey fined each defendant $5 and costs, but not having sufficient money with them, they wired to a relative in Camden, who remitted the money by telegraph, and in two hours the defendants were released.

According to Justice DeLacey, the theft of trees and shrubs in this and nearby areas has been quite prevalent, and the property owners are determined to break up the practice.

DUTCH HOLD INDONESIAN LEADER

TAKEN BY DUTCH FORCES into "protective custody," Dr. A. T. K. Gani (right), vice-premier of the Indonesian Republic, is shown with President Achmed Soekarno during a broadcast from Jogjakarta, Java, when they denounced the Dutch military operations as an "attack on freedom." A "shooting war" is under way, with Batavia reporting Dutch war planes bombing airfields in Java and Sumatra. (International)

MOST DANGEROUS DAY ON ROAD IS SATURDAY

5-Day Week Has Changed The Traffic Picture, Says Keystone Club

SUNDAY COMES NEXT

The five-day week has changed the traffic accident picture. Saturday has superseded Sunday as the most dangerous day on the highways, according to Keystone Automobile Club, which points to a record of 40 per cent more deaths on Saturdays last year than on the average day, with Sunday in second place for the first time.

Since the "short week" has been adopted rather generally throughout the country, John Armstrong, manager of the Doylestown Division of the Club, emphasized, more motorists are free to travel on Saturdays and in consequence the longer week-end runs up a high mortality toll. The Club official urged all drivers to exercise the utmost care in week-end travel.

Figures compiled nationally show that the Saturday death toll last year was 6850, or 20.2 per cent of all highway fatalities. Injuries on Saturday totaled 231,760, an increase of 25 per cent above the average day.

POLICE CHIEFS WARNED OF COMING CRIME WAVE AND INFORMED IT IS UP TO LAW ENFORCEMENT TO CONTROL SITUATION

WILKES-BARRE, July 23—The Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police Association Conference was warned today in no uncertain terms by Judge John S. Fine of the State Superior Court, and Lee V. Boardman, Special Agent in Charge of the Philadelphia F. B. I. office, that there are strong indications of a coming crime wave, and that it is up to law enforcement to control this dangerous situation.

At the noon luncheon, Judge Fine told the 200 assembled delegates and guests: "I can remember at one time when we would have 18 or 20 murder cases pending on the records of the Luzerne County Courts. On one occasion I tried four murder cases in a period of weeks, each one involving a boy 18 or 19 years of age. These conditions improved, but from all appearances this same cycle of crime is starting up again, not only in Luzerne County, but throughout the entire state."

"It is the responsibility of the police chiefs to see that this situation does not get out of hand. It is necessary that you men receive training and that you know the elementary elements of criminal law and procedure. Too many important cases have been lost through the tragic mistakes of policemen, in the taking of statements, in the manner of making arrests, and in the presentation of the cases in court. Today you have the opportunity of attending schools of the F. B. I., of conferring with your District Attorney, and of studying the proper procedures. Police business is not a gentle business, and it will get harder before it gets easier. You are figuratively and literally the 'strong

1. Monthly Insurance Payments After Age 65

Probably you will have to give up working some day. You might even prefer to retire before that. The insurance protection you have built up while working in covered employment will help you to do this.

Question: When are you eligible for monthly insurance payments?

Answer: (1) You must be at least 65 years old; (2) be "fully insured;" and (3) have filed an application for payments.

Question: What is meant by the term "fully insured?"

Answer: To be "fully insured," you must have worked in a covered job approximately half the time between the beginning of the program on 1/1/37 and the date on which you reach 65. If you were 65 prior to July 1, 1949, you must work approximately 1½ years.

Question: How is the amount of your monthly payments determined?

Answer: Payments are based on a percentage of your average monthly wage, plus an additional amount for each calendar year in which you were paid $200 or more on jobs covered by the law:

40% of the first $50. of your average monthly wage plus 10% of the balance up to $200.

plus 1% of the sum of the above amounts for each year in which you earned $200 or more.

The total is your monthly insurance payment.

A representative is at the Bristol post office on the second and last Thursday of each month.

ST. ANN'S ESCAPES DEFEAT BY 1 RUN IN CLOSE GAME

Democrats Give Rivals A Scare, But Finally
Lose Game

FINAL SCORE IS 3 TO 2

Sallustio and Clark Were
The Opposing Pitchers
In the Contest

St. Ann's had a narrow escape last evening on the Maple Beach field but scored a run in the last half of the tenth inning to nose out the Democrat Club, 3-2, in a close ball game.

The victory was the 12th straight for the "Saints" and clinched the first division championship of the Bristol Suburban League. By winning, St. Ann's tied their mark for this season of winning 12 straight games.

The opposing hurlers were Angelo Sallustio, for the Democrats, and "Kenny" Clark, for St. Ann's.

Sallustio made the fatal mistake of walking "Walt" Saraganesse to get at Gene Saraganesse in the tenth. Gene promptly dumped a single past second base to score "Chick" Ciarella with the winning marker. Ciarella was on second as the result of a single. Sallustio issued two passes in the game and Clark one.

Singles by Ludwig and Barbetta gave St. Ann's their first tally, while the second was scored on hits by Ciarella and W. Saraganesse.

"Johnny" Centonze, who had a double and a pair of singles for the losers, drove in both their runs.

BADENHAUSEN WINS OVER HIBERNIANS

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, July 23
—Scoring most of their tallies in the late frames, the Badenhausen team increased its margin on second place in its division by winning over the Hibernians, 10-7, on the Bensaleen school diamond.

The stick of "Bobby" Griffin was the biggest factor in the batter-makers' triumph. Griffin, stepping up to the platter four times, delivered a pair of doubles and two singles. He drove in four runs and scored two.

The game was a heart-breaker for Gil Closterman to lose. Gil had a 5-2 lead going into the fourth and a 7-4 edge going into the sixth. He lost the lead in the last half of the sixth when the Badenhausen boys registered a quartet of markers.

Jack Hansen was the winning hillman, although he received assistance from "Charlie" Martindell. Martindell pitched the last two innings and retired the six batters to face him, fanning four.

ERRORS AID VOLTZ NINE TO WIN OVER ROHM & HAAS TEAM

Chemical Mixers Had Nine
Errors, Three of Which Were by Dick

CERVELLERO IS LOSER

Kershaw Was the Winning Pitcher For The Voltz Boys

Taking advantage of errors, the Voltz-Texaco boys chalked up their 39th victory, last evening, on the Third Ward field, trimming the Rohm & Haas nine, 10-1, in a one-sided Bristol Suburban League tilt.

The chemical mixers had nine errors, three of which were committed by "Johnny" Dick. The winners played errorless ball in the field.

It was the first mound loss of the season for Paul Cervellero, and the four peak win for "Sammy" Kershaw. Both pitchers allowed five hits, with Pat Carnvale being the only player to get more than one bingle.

The Oilers need but two more victories to clinch the second division championship of the Suburban League.

the first flight by plane for the young woman, and she indicated that she is not keen about trips by air. Agnes has two sisters and one brother. "You'll notice," explained Rohaty as she continued to look perplexedly at the news dispatches relative to his fleeing from Agnes, "that they didn't use either her name or mine. They knew there was no truth to the whole thing as they presented it."
